Tabletopia is an all-new social game by designer Martin Wallace. Scythe is his first published game in the new Tabletopia system, and it showcases what Tabletopia is capable of. It's an online, but full-featured, board game that offers a social experience as well as an escape. Tabletopia, which is playable on PC and Macs, allows you to sit together and play a board game (or any other board game you own) without the need for a board or pieces. The system is focused on simplicity and low barriers to entry so you can sit together and enjoy the game you have. Tabletopia removes all the distraction of the physical components of a board game, and the online interface allows you to interact in a board game fashion while still sitting at home or on the go. Whether you are looking for a relaxing social get-together, an intense multiplayer war with friends, or just an escape from your online life, Tabletopia can bring you into a time-tested, social experience. Key Features Include: • Two-hour turns with an “As You Go” design • Action resolution without rounds or phases • Plays 30+ games simultaneously • 10+ different factions • Expansive board and unit movement • Unique movement types • Personalized faction engines • Character cards with unique abilities • Adaptive engine-building mechanics • Fast play for competitive players • All-new stealth mechanic • Unique combats and events Exclusive to DLC This is the very first game by Martin Wallace, the creator of Tabletopia, so we only expect this to get better! Make sure to head over to the Tabletopia site for more info and to check out the demo! New features include: • Faction-based Steam Achievements • Unit testing – Units can be sent into tactical exercises before deployment. This lets you test abilities and responses before players and the AI take part. • New end-game event for players who want to test their players' strategic prowess • Political Actions – Strategic player actions • Farm Building – Build a harvesting, gathering and production structure on your farm • Faction Trees – Expand your settlements, upgrade your units and build new faction buildings • Faction Balancing • Faction Deck Creation – Players can create their own faction deck with cards drawn at random. Players can use these cards for their faction and a subset of their own faction with some restrictions. Players can give away these decks to

Amateur career Pondgill played college golf at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln and won the Big Eight Individual Championship in 1984. He turned professional in 1984. Professional career Pondgill was a member of the U.S. team at the 1997 Canada Cup, a team event between Canada and the United States. Pondgill represented the United States in a foursomes event at the 1997 Eisenhower Trophy. Pondgill had his first tour win in the 2001 MaxxPro Golf Classic at The Heritage Club in Orange County, California. The following year, he played on the European Tour, where he won the Saudi International. The win was his first on the European Tour and came at the age of 45, making him the oldest winner of a tournament on that tour in the last eighteen years. In 2002, he won the TransAmerican for his only other European Tour win. This success propelled him into the top 100 of the Official World Golf Ranking. After a poor showing early in the 2003 season, Pondgill gained momentum by winning the BMW International Open, an event co-sponsored with the PGA Tour. However, he then suffered a series of bogeys in the final round of the UBS PGA Championship, and this ended his chances at a place in the Players Championship. He had surgery on his right shoulder during the summer. Pondgill's season included a runner-up finish to Mark O'Meara at the AT&T Pebble Beach Pro-Am. Pondgill finished second in the money list on the European Tour, and maintained his world ranking of 165. In 2004, the European Tour moved its European Tour Championship to the Binh Thuy Country Club in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam. Pond
